History

The Plains Anthropological Society's "...membership includes individuals from all branches of anthropology and related disciplines. Traditionally archaeology has been the focus of most of the society's activities and publications, but ethno historians, ethnologists, linguists, physical anthropologists, and geoscientists also make major contributions. Students and private citizens as well as professionals enjoy membership in the society. The two primary functions of the society are to hold an Annual Conference, the Plains Conference and publish a peer-reviewed quarterly journal, the Plains Anthropologist. Both activities are dedicated to communicating and disseminating information about past and present human cultures on the North American Great Plains." (Plains Anthropological Society, <http://www.ou.edu/cas/archsur/plainsanth/index.html>)

"The first Plains Conference was held in Vermillion, South Dakota in August of 1931. The meeting took place only three additional times (1932, 1936, and 1940) over the next 16 years. It became an annual conference in 1947. From 1947 through 1959, the meeting was held in Lincoln, Nebraska, the Missouri Basin Project headquarters of the Smithsonian Institution - River Basin Surveys. Since the early 1960s, The Plains Conference has been held in all Great Plains U. S. States and Canadian provinces. It has grown from a small, informal gathering of scholars to a major regional three-day conference with attendance generally over 500 people. The Plains Conference and the journal Plains Anthropologist have always been linked under the same organization that was officially named the Plains Anthropological Society in August of 1982. The conference and the journal are operated under the auspices of the Plains Anthropological Society Board of Directors." (The Plains Anthropological Society Conference: A Guidebook for Hosts and Organizers; Adair, Bozell, Larson and Lees, 1992)

"Plains Anthropologist, a quarterly journal, publishes original papers on the anthropology of the Great Plains and adjacent areas of North America. Manuscripts of a more general nature, or those concerned with other areas, will be considered if they are of theoretical importance or if they bear upon problems of humans in Plains environments. Memoir issues of the Plains Anthropologist are published depending on availability of manuscripts and funding."

Scope and Content Note

The Plains Anthropological Society Collection contains materials that have been donated by its officers and membership. New materials are added to the collection on a regular basis. In order to reflect the hierarchy of the association, the processor has tried to create a structure that mirrors the organization of PAS. Materials are described at the folder level, except for a few areas that require item description. PAS is divided into three series: Administration, Conference, and Plains Anthropologist.

The Administration series contains materials divided into three sub-series Board of Directors, Committees and Officers. The Board of Directors sub-series contain correspondence, briefing packets and meeting minutes. General Business meeting minutes from the annual conference are filed within this sub-series. Officer lists and student membership drives from 1991-1999 are also included in this series.

The Committees sub-series contain materials from PAS Committees: Archives, By-laws, Conference Handbook, Distinguished Service Award, Native American Student Award, Nominations, Resolutions, and Student Paper Award. Committee correspondence, changes to the by-laws, submissions for awards, the Plains Anthropological Conference handbook and reports are contained within this sub-series. The Officer sub-series only contain materials from the Treasurer. Treasurer materials are comprised of correspondence, financial reports, financial statements and budgets.

The Conference series contains materials pertaining to the Plains Anthropological Society Conference that is held on a yearly basis in either October or November. This series is comprised of conference correspondence, Programs and Abstracts and newspaper clippings. The series is organized chronologically. Also included in this series are cassette recordings of papers delivered at the 1976 symposium "Anthropology on the Great Plains: The State of Art, 1976" at the 34th Plains Conference that was held in Minneapolis, Minnesota and a transcript of the 1955 conference..

The largest series in this collection is the Plains Anthropologist series. It contains all materials concerning publication of the Plains Anthropologist. The Plains Anthropologist series is divided into five sub-series: Editor, Manuscripts, Manuscript Correspondence, Printed Materials, and Artwork/Photographs. Included in the Editor sub-series are correspondence, book reviews that are organized by book title, Election of Editor materials, manuscripts of obituaries, permissions forms to reprint photographs and Editor Reports.

The Manuscripts are submissions for publication in Plains Anthropologist. The Manuscript Correspondence is correspondence and reviews concerning the submitted manuscripts. The Manuscripts and Manuscript Correspondence sub-series are organized by author and title and were submitted in the years 1989-2000. The dates in the Manuscripts and Manuscript Correspondence sub-series refer to the date of the last correspondence from the Editor relevant to the manuscript. Manuscripts not dated have no correspondence and were possibly not published.

The Manuscript Correspondence sub-series is RESTRICTED.

RESTRICTED MATERIALS: In order to maintain the confidentiality of manuscript reviews, correspondence, including reviews, pertaining to Plains Anthropologist manuscripts shall be restricted for a period of 15 calendar years. This period is computed from the date of the last correspondence to or from the Editor relevant to review of the manuscript in question. Access to manuscripts is not restricted.

In the rare case that access to restricted materials is required, the President, Editor, or their designated representative may be awarded access given Board approval. A written statement supporting access to restricted materials must be presented to the Archivist. This statement must clearly outline who shall be allowed access, their Society position or appointment, materials to be accessed, the purpose of their research, and the period for which access is allowed. Board approval of the access request must be indicated by signature of the highest-ranking Society officer other than the person requesting access.

The Printed Materials sub-series include issues of the publications Plains Anthropological Conference Newsletter and Plains Anthropologist. The Plains Anthropological Conference Newsletter dates from 1947-1953 and contains news from the conferences. The Plains Anthropologist took over for the Plains Anthropological Conference Newsletter by 1956 and in 1961 the publication began to print scholarly manuscripts.

The Artwork/photographs sub-series is comprised of photographs and artwork published in Plains Anthropologist. This sub series is arranged by Plains Anthropologist issue number. Larger artwork has been filed in an oversized box. Within the oversize box is the Metal printing master for Plains Anthropologist Vol. 1 no. 1.

The following papers were given, but the following is only a selection of those given, and they were not given in the order in which they are recorded here. How the mixing occurred is not recorded.
